

MRS. J. E. HUNTOON.

She was formerly Miss Grace Anderson of this city, and is a guest of her mother, Mrs. James Anderson. Mrs. Huntoon, whose home is in Sacramento, is being entertained extensively during her stay in the city.

The annual struggle to lead the simple life for a short time will begin Wednesday next. Not that there is any religious significance attached to this observance of Lent, but that the formalities must be observed and the proper propitiatory measure adopted with the recording angels. It would seem, however, that the recording angel must read the society columns assiduously for if the "doins" of the smart set can be kept out of those there seems to be little fear of consequences. The gaiety goes on just the same, the same late hours and giddy suppers are allowed, but not for publication—oh, no, not for publication.

The week has been a particularly gay one in the matter of teas and card parties. The visitors at the post have been receiving a large share of attention, and a goodly number of the town-folk have been enjoying affairs in their honor. Two dances, one large and one small, have made the young people happy, and innumerable small teas and theatre parties have served to keep the ennuil away a trifle longer.

There was a suggestion of gold in more ways than one about that magnificent gown worn by the tall, stately beauty at the post hop the other evening. Although all the officers were in full military dress, there wasn't one of them had what Dooley would call "the could reserve" in such force as that one gown. But it was a stunner.

Women's Clubs.

The Friday meeting of the Ladies' Literary club was devoted to the study of two noted artists, John Sargent and Whistler, the first being presented by Mrs. F. J. Fabian, and the second by Dr. W. M. Paden. Mrs. Fabian gave a talk on the line of work done by Sargent, before taking up in detail the matter of his portrait work. She told of his chief characteristics, of his exact portrayal of things and persons as they are presented to him, and of his work with others who have ranked high in the line of portrait work. Mrs. Fabian gave a personal note which was most pleasing to her character sketch by the fact that she had recently seen a number of his more noted paintings in her last visit east.

Dr. Paden also followed the personal side of the artist Whistler, in his study of the man, for he had known a great many of the followers and admirers of Whistler in the Latin quarter in Paris. His topic was delivered almost without notes, and was greatly enjoyed by the members and their friends.

The music of the afternoon was furnished by Professor George E. Skelton, who played two splendid violin numbers, and was recalled for a third, and by the club chorus under Mrs. Wetzel, which sang "Bendeme's Stream" and "Airy Pinions."

A notice of intention to change the by-laws was read by the secretary, the intent being to place the time of meeting at 2:30 instead of at 2, as it now stands.

The Woman's club will observe Tuesday next as president's day, and the club will meet at 2 o'clock that day with Mrs. G. P. Keller, 416 South Third East street. Taylor will speak on "The Present Opportunity to Help the Children of Utah." Miss Elizabeth M. Qualtrough, principal of the Quivira school will read a paper on "The Relation of the Club Woman to the Public Schools."

The Utah Sorosis of Provo met last Wednesday afternoon with the president, Francis Adams. A very interesting paper on "The Saxon Dynasty" was given, after which Mrs. Hattie Slater reviewed Bayview Magazine No. 1. Each member answered rollcall by giving the name of some noted German and some fact relating to his life.

The Nineteenth Century club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. David Westwood. Rev. George Townsend gave a very interesting address on Browning.

The Women's Athenaeum of Park City met at Mrs. D. Q. Grall's Monday afternoon. Mrs. Grall gave a paper on "Woman's Virtues That Are Vices." Mrs. Diem read a paper. Hungarian music was played, also a piano and violin selection by Mrs. Diem and Ira Diem. The club will meet next Monday afternoon with Mrs. Dan B. Shields, Chapter 4 in Austrian Country Life will be the lesson.

The history section of the Ladies' Literary club will meet at the club house Thursday morning, Feb. 14. Mrs. Blintz will give the topic, "Macedonian Kings." The subject of the one-minute talk will be announced later.

The Wasatch Literary club was entertained on Tuesday by Mrs. Byron Cummings and Miss Emma Cummings. Mrs. C. E. Allen gave a most interesting talk upon "Religious Life in Germany." Miss Florence Hurlburt furnished the music of the afternoon.

Hamilton's Smart Shop.

Many of our NEW SPRING MODELS have arrived, showing a decided tendency for EARLY BUYING, and the demand is increasing every day.

The Tailor-made Suits

Are smart beyond comparison with those of seasons past, and there is a variety of styles and materials. Each day sees the stock increase, for they are sent to us as soon as produced by the custom tailors. Prices, $25.00 to $95.00.

The newest arrivals are some dressy and up-to-date

Shirt-waist Suits and Afternoon Dresses

In Novelty Silks. All of them quaint, strikingly new in design. Popular for early spring.

Our Walking Skirts

Have been pronounced the swellest in town, and they certainly should be appreciated. A better or more exclusive assortment is seldom seen. $10.00 to $35.00.

New Summer Waists

In all-over embroidery and Swiss and Lingerie have been received. They make a grateful change after the heavy winter showing.

One door south of Henderson's grocery.

The attention of the public and customers is directed to our commodious new location. We have more room and larger stock than formerly, a much more handsome store—better facilities, increased help. The old, high standard of excellence as regards courteous attention to the trade, accommodations, care in compounding prescriptions and in dispensing only reliable drugs, will prevail as usual.

We like the new place—we believe you will grow used to it.

It is so close to our former location—just a hundred feet north and on the same side of the street.

As in the past, particular attention will be devoted to fine soda—especially not drinks in season. Our fountain enjoys quite a reputation, and to enhance which effort will be made.

LADIES' LITERARY CLUB BREAKFAST.

The two central figures in the group are Miss Ethel Paul, the present president of the club, and Mrs. Jonathan C. Royle, the first president. On the upper row from left to right are Mrs. C. S. Kinney, president of the Utah State Federation, Mrs. C. E. Allen and Mrs. A. H. Boxrud. In the bottom row are Mrs. Howard S. Stowe, Mrs. W. F. Adams, toastmistress, and Mrs. W. H. Blintz. The lower picture is Miss Linda Jessup.

The event in club circles is the breakfast to be given in celebration of the thirtieth birthday of the Ladies' Literary club next Friday morning. The breakfast will be at the Manitou hotel and is under the management of Mrs.

John W. Delano and the other members of the entertainment committee. The hour set is 12 o'clock, and with the many toasts and responses the affair will probably last the entire afternoon.

Mrs. J. C. Royle, the first president of the club, elected some thirty years ago, will be especially honored at this anniversary breakfast, being asked to respond to the toast, "Club Reminiscences." Mrs. W. F. Adams will be the toastmistress. Miss Ethel Paul, the president, will speak on "Club Predictions." Mrs. W. H. Blintz responds to the toast "Our Friends, the Critics." Mrs. C. S. Kinney will speak to "The Club Woman's Goal." Mrs. C. E. Allen will discuss "Some Honorable Points of Ignorance." Mrs. A. H. Boxrud will speak on "Club Friendships." Miss Linda Jessup will tell the guests "How to be Happy Though a Club Member," and Mrs. Howard S. Stowe will give the "First Aid to the Topic Giver."
